GREYWACKE PINOT NOIR 2022

'A wine that reminds us why we love the fermented grape in the first place. From the heady, hopelessly charming perfume of mixed berry compote, peppery spice, sage and dried flowers on their stalks, to the wonderfully bright acidity that plays alongside taut, sinewy tannins and tangy berry, floral and herbal notes—it's hard to resist.' EDITOR'S CHOICE, 96 Points, Christina Pickard, WINE ENTHUSIAST

'Lovely opulence and perfume from the start, full of dark cherry, damson plum, earth and spice, a touch of orange peel and clove...lots to enjoy here.' 95 Points, Emma Jenkins MW, DECANTER.COM

'Quite a tactile wine; the pleasure is in the finesse of tannins and fine lines of acidity. Black cherries bloom out in the middle palate, with some stone fruit, too. Oak is savoury and the wine finishes with a slight peppery, floral freshness.' 95 Points, Shanteh Wale, HALLIDAY WINECOMPANION.COM

'Layers of plush, ripe blackberry, plum and cinnamon oak unfold from the glass. Sweet and generously fruity, the palate is firmly structured with oak and extraction at present but has the concentration to see it integrate and develop complexity...' 93 Points, Stephen Wong MW, THEREALREVIEW.COM

'This label's pinot goes under the radar too often. This one's an absolute gem: perfumed, with a drenching core of red- and dark- fruit flavours.' John Saker, TE WHENUA

'From a cooler vintage, this is tightly structured, quite dense and focused, but an elegant, age-worthy expression of pinot noir...' Max Allen. AUSTRALIAN FINANCIAL REVIEW

'Interesting aromas of flint, graphite, dried strawberries and dark cherries that follow through to a medium body with firm tannins and a fresh and linear finish.' 92 Points, James Suckling, JAMESSUCKLING.COM

'There's plenty to admire in this red, with pure and generous notes of blueberry, marionberry and blackberry that are complemented by crushed pine needle, loam and black tea accents. Offers terrific structure, including a fresh thread of acidity.' 91 Points, MaryAnn Worobiec, WINESPECTATOR.COM

'In the mouth, the wine is delicate, and the tannins hold shape while the fruit flows between the folds. This is pretty.' 90 Points, Erin Larkin, ROBERT PARKER WINE ADVOCATE

GREYWACKE PINOT NOIR 2021

'Dark chocolate, walnuts, dried flowers, orange peel, and lead pencil. Medium-bodied with firm and racy tannins that give a linear feel and focus to this wine. Solid and curated texture.'

Rated 63rd. TOP 100 NZ WINES 2023, 94 Points, James Suckling, JAMESSUCKLING.COM

'It has got ""drink me"" written all over it but it could surprise anyone with enough willpower to put it out of sight for a decade.' 95 Points, Bob Campbell MW, THEREALREVIEW.COM

'Spiced and juicy plum, blueberry and oolong tea elements mingle with black licorice, crushed pine needle and clove notes. Gains momentum and complexity on the long, expressive finish, where a hint of salted toffee lingers.' 93 Points, MaryAnn Worobiec, WINESPECTATOR.COM

'Layered with red apple blossom, cherry, strawberry, hints of pomegranate molasses and black tea, the 2021 Pinot Noir is floral and pretty on the nose. In the mouth, the wine is all of these things, lingering through the detailed and finessed finish. There is density ensconced with the light framework of the wine. Very good!' 93 Points, Erin Larkin, ROBERT PARKER WINE ADVOCATE

'Deep, dark purple-edged colour; very savoury nose with dusty earth/terracotta and oaky aromas and a little meatiness. The wine is robust, full and rich, with density and slightly chewy grip, plums and strong savoury notes, not a 'pretty' pinot but generous. A power-packed and firmly structured pinot that needs food and/or time.' 93 Points, Huon Hooke, THEREALREVIEW.COM

'Promising flinty reduction on the nose with aromas of ripe dark fruits and assertive spicy notes. Concentration of fruit and harmonious structure, lovely grip with a spiciness on the finish.'

92 Points, Anne Krebiehl MW, Justin Knock MW, Dirceu Vianna Junior MW, DECATER.COM

'Fragrant, mouthfilling and supple, concentrated cherry, plum, spice and nut flavours, hints of earthiness, excellent complexity and good tannin backbone.' 5 Stars, Michael Cooper, MICHAELCOOPER.CO.NZ

'You can expect richness of fruit while a portion of whole bunches has helped with both the lift and line of this wine. The tannins provide a mouthcoating, lick-your-cheeks sort of texture.'

91 Points, Rebecca Gibb MW, VINOUS.COM

GREYWACKE

GREYWACKE PINOT NOIR 2020

'There's no mistaking the varietal charm, core of red berry fruits scents and pinosity. Complex and youthful bouquet. Delicious on the palate with a core of red berry fruit flavours, there's a savoury seam accentuating some dried herb qualities and sweeter toasty oak spice layers. Complexity layers in through an abundance of polished tannins and youthful acid line, cherry, plum and some ripe cranberry flavours. The acidity pulls everything together adding texture and freshness to a very lengthy finish. A fantastic wine...outstanding.'

96 Points, Cameron Douglas MS, CAMDOUGLASMS.COM

'Delicately scented and quite floral wine with violet/rose petal, cherry, anise/spice, cherry/berry and subtle oak flavours. Aromatic and appealing wine with purity and subtle power. Perfectly formed.'

95 Points, Bob Campbell MW, THEREALREVIEW.COM

'Cherry preserves, cocktail bitters, dusty, peppery spice and dried flowers are all at the fore on this fragrant, easy-to-like Pinot. There's a brightness and lightness to the fruit, thanks to lovely acidity. It's all wound up in well-structured, textural tannins, with a mineral through line. A tightrope of elegance, power and ageworthiness, this hasn't reached its peak yet and has perhaps a decade left in it.'

94 Points, Christina Pickard, WINE ENTHUSIAST

'Vibrant, with aromatics leaping out of the glass, including palo santo, sandalwood and a touch of singed tobacco, which complement the blackberry, blueberry and huckleberry flavors. Reveals spice notes of star anise, fennel and nutmeg, with a touch of green tea lingering on the finish.'

93 Points, MaryAnn Worobiec, WINESPECTATOR.COM

'This is a deliciously spicy and complex pinot with aromas of spiced cherries, tea leaves, cedar, grilled herbs, smoke and potpourri. Rich in both flavour and texture, with plush tannins and a medium body. Long and spicy.' 93 Points, James Suckling, JAMESSUCKLING.COM

'Very deep, dark red-purple colour with black tints with a marked reductive note among oaky/savoury/stemmy aromas at first. After copious working in the glass and airing time it developed more appealing dark-cherry aromas. The fruit came up. There's quite a lot of tannin, which is firm and drying.'

93 Points, Huon Hooke, THEREALREVIEW.COM

'When I tasted this wine, I was taken back to a childhood visit to the Jorvik Viking Centre in York. After queuing outside for what seemed like an eternity, we boarded small carts on rails and were transported around the centre, learning about life in Viking York. I remember the scary mannequins and the smell of smoked meats and log fires, and here they are in the glass. Once those savoury characters yield, there is fruitcake, cinnamon spice, thyme and fennel...Ready to drink, but with its substance and structure, it will evolve gracefully.' 93 Points, Rebecca Gibb MW, VINOUS.COM
